NEWS OCTOBER 13, 2026

ECC Foundation recognizes business office with award

ECC Foundation honors business staff with Eagle Pride Department of Excellence Award for teamwork and collaboration across the college.

For The Enterprise

The Edgecombe Community College Business Office staff are pictured with the Eagle Pride Department of Excellence Award presented by the ECC Foundation in recognition of their outstanding teamwork and collaboration across the college. Ron Sowers | Contributed photo

TARBORO — The ECC Foundation has recognized the Business Office with its annual Eagle Pride Department of Excellence Award, which honors a department or team for outstanding teamwork and collaboration across the college.

The nomination highlighted the Business Office's work with departments across campus to support workforce development, expand academic opportunities an promote student success.

The nomination stated, in part, that the Business Office's "quiet, hard work makes a real difference for every student and department on our campus."

Tiara Edmondson, a representative of the Business Office, participated in the panel interview process to help determine this year's award recipient.